

Can UBI promote gender-justice and gender-equality? Might it transform gendered notions of work, value and care? What political, economic and social demands emerge from a focus on women's voices?

On June 4th 2021 at 3:30 pm (GMT). Duration: 1¼ hours. Public event.
San Francisco 8:30 am / NYC 11:30 am / London 4:30 pm / Berlin 5:30 pm / Delhi 9 pm

Zoom-Link to join event

Meeting-ID: 690 8093 8288

Passcode: 6cZQ9L6Ma

With:

Prof. Almaz Zelleke, New York University in Shanghai

Dr. Liz Fouksman, King's College, London, and University of Oxford, UK

Renana Jhabvala, Women's Union SEWA and UBI pilot projects in India

Prof. Toru Yamamori, Doshisha University, Kyoto, Japan, research editor of BIEN.

Host: Enno Schmidt

BIRAL first seminar

BIRAL is a global network of UBI research projects founded on the initiative of the FRIBIS NetFi Team and BIEN. In the first round table, the two projects from Maricá and Gyeonggi will be presented and discussed in order to support international exchange. Read more

Basic Income and Gender

Which possibilities does a UBI open up for a new social contract that incorporates the voices of women more than before? The FRIBIS-Team Universal Basic Income and Gender deals with this question. Read more

UBI in Liechtenstein

There are few countries smaller than the Principality of Liechtenstein. This allows for an efficient collection and computation of data and is a great premise for the introduction of a UBI. The FRIBIS-Team "Universal Basic Income Liechtenstein" investigates the feasibility of a UBI in Liechtenstein. Read more

FUBI Working Paper

In the first working paper, the FUBI team drafts the proposal for debt-free state money as a means of financing the basic income. Read more